Period Elegance With Modern Living

This beautifully appointed weatherboard, on a corner allotment that provides a deep set back for peace and privacy and the ease of car entry off Gladstone Street, delivers an impressive blending of period elegance and contemporary comfort.

High decorative ceilings, plantation shutters, shimmering Baltic pine floorboards, plate rails and lead light enhance four bedrooms, that in a traditional layout are zoned at the front of the house. However walk past the bedrooms and the generous stone finished bathroom and traditional ends and captivating contemporary living starts.

A massive open plan living zone under high ceilings partnered with a slick, gloss, glass, stone and stainless steel kitchen links up with a substantial rumpus/play room to provide all the living space you'll ever need.
